

EXPECT 1,000 STUDENTS AT K. C. NIGHT SCHOOL

Building Has Been Enlarged at Considerable Cost—Free to Service Men.

OTHERS PAY NOMINAL FEE
Auto Courses Are Declared Equal to Any in Country—Others Will Prepare for Civil Service Examinations.

With a large enrollment assured, the Knights of Columbus Night School, 309 East Marshall street, free to ex-service men and women, will be opened for registration tomorrow night from 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock. Classes begin September 27. The school is devoted to instruction in the art of the automobile. The school is conducted entirely free of charge to all who served in the army, navy and marine service. Sessions are held every night, except Saturday and Sunday, from 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock. Students may enroll at any time for one, two or three subjects.

Although the Knights of Columbus first opened the school for ex-service men, it has been decided to allow any youth over 16 years of age to enter upon payment of a small fee.

The building, remodeled and enlarged at great cost, will now accommodate about 1,000 students. Approximately 300 were registered last term, but it is thought that the school will be filled to capacity the coming session.

Five automobiles of different models have been added to the motor department for driving. Numerous cars have been dismantled, and the various parts will be used in the auto mechanics, driving and repair courses. In these departments each section of the automobile is studied minutely before the machine as a whole is taken up. The purpose of the driving course is to familiarize prospective drivers with the principles both of construction and operation, also how to care for the various parts. The repair course is designed to train men in the art of repairing work to such a degree that they will feel competent to seek employment in a garage or automobile repair shop.

Best Course in South.
These courses are declared to be the most complete and elaborate in the South, and the department ranks equal with any in the United States. New garages have been built to assure every facility in giving thorough-going courses in the handling of an automobile. Fifteen trained teachers have been employed for this department. Examinations are given at the completion of the course.

In addition to the auto-mechanics courses, industrial courses in history, mechanical drawing, mathematics, mathematics and tire vulcanizing have been added.

Academy courses in American history, arithmetic, English, Spanish, French, bookkeeping and stenography are offered. A course in accounting enables students to qualify for the position of bookkeeper in any business. A course in stenography enables them to engage successfully in practical stenography.

The course in civil service work offers a special and thorough preparation for those who wish to take city, State or Federal examinations. In addition to this preparation, the course includes examinations, the course is intended to give a full and correct account of the civil service requirements and thus to serve a useful and practical purpose in assisting all who wish to understand the general line and scope of civil service.

Any subject not given in the prospectus will be taught if at least ten students wish to take it. It is planned in this manner to add from time to time to the curriculum, although the courses offered at present are thought to cover pretty well all lines desired.

All athletics will be under the supervision of the Physical Education Department. Physical education in the Richmond public schools. All kinds of athletics will be supported and prizes are under way for several local basketball teams.

They assert that August 13 and have solicited no orders since.

ALBERT C. ELLINGTON BURIED IN OAKWOOD LAST WEDNESDAY

Was Richmond's Oldest Fire Fighter and Died at Post—Was an Ex-Confederate Veteran.

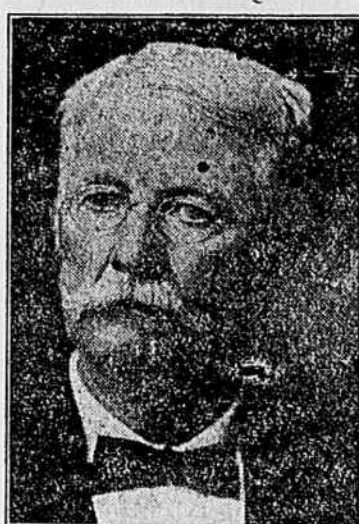

Albert C. Ellington, Richmond's oldest fire-fighter, was buried in Oakwood Cemetery on Wednesday, September 8. He was connected with the Richmond Fire Department for forty-six years and was 77 years old when he died last Sunday at his post of duty, No. 9 Engine House, at Fifth and Duval Streets.

He was a member of Lee Camp, Confederate Veterans, having served during the entire War Between the States in Company A, Fifteenth Virginia Infantry.

Mr. Ellington was a member of Richmond's Randolph Lodge No. 13 A. F. and A. M.; a member of Damon Lodge, Knights of Pythias, and St. James Episcopal Church.

The burial was with both Masonic and Knights of Pythias honors at the graveside, the funeral procession passing Engine House No. 9, where Mr. Ellington was stationed for many years, all friends stood at attention and the bell was tolled. The funeral was attended by many friends. Many floral tributes to the memory of Mr. Ellington were in evidence.

He was born in Richmond, being a son of W. C. and Martha Elmore Ellington.

STRIKING LONGSHOREMEN IN CLASH WITH NEGROES

Colored Men Take Places of Those Who Quit in Sympathy With MacSwiney.

[By Associated Press.]
NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Picketeting of British steamship piers continued today with an outbreak of violence attributed by the police to friction between longshoremen striking in sympathy with Archbishop Mannix and Terence MacSwiney and negro strike breakers.

While members of the "American Women's Pickets" were operating at the pier where the force was being unloaded the liner Adriatic, whites and negroes clashed several times. Several shots were fired and one bystander is known to have been injured by flying missiles. Stones, clubs and bats were used freely by a half-hundred combatants.

During the afternoon extra police guards were rushed to the Adriatic's dock to quell disturbances which might arise when a negro divine, Bishop Seifried, attempted to enter the pier in sympathy with whites who struck to the vessel until Archbishop Mannix and the Lord Mayor of Cork released from prison.

A riot occurred when a fight started at the Stewards Club, an organization of negro ship employees. A white man, who had been attacked by a negro after the latter refused to join the strikers, fought club members. Several blows were exchanged and a fight broke out between the two groups. The free-for-all fight which followed was broken up by police reinforcements. A negro was arrested on charges of inciting a riot. While being placed in a patrol wagon, one of the civil service requirements aimed a brick at the officers or their prisoners. The missile missed its mark and fell to an onlooker.

FUNERAL SERVICES OF CHAS. G. WIGGLESWORTH
Office Associates of the Veteran Advertising Man Serve as His Pallbearers.

Charles Graves Wigglesworth, who died Wednesday morning at the Virginia Hospital, following a long period of ill health, was buried yesterday afternoon in the family plot in Shockoe Cemetery.

Funeral services were conducted from the parlors of Billey's undertaking establishment, with Rev. J. H. Buchanan officiating. The services were attended by many representative business men of Richmond, with whom Mr. Wigglesworth had a long and intimate acquaintance.

As advertising solicitor of The Times-Dispatch, and later as a valued member of the staff of The Times-Dispatch, Mr. Wigglesworth was known and esteemed by practically every business man of the city. Many of these were present to pay their last respects to him. His residence, 111 East Broad Street, was the scene of the funeral. The Times-Dispatch was terminated about four years ago, when increasing ill health forbade continuation of work.

The pallbearers were H. D. Armstrong, George Helfert, Charles Thomas, Richard R. Jones, Norman Snyder and Thomas H. Jones.
